The Slocan Boy.
KARLO, B. C., March 14, 1893. — Billy Lynch came in yesterday to Kaslo with a magnificent specimen of ore from his mine, the Slocan Boy. It is a solid chunk of galena weighing 184 pounds, and was taken out of the shaft. It averages 134 ounces silver and 76 per cent. lead. This was taken from a wide vein, the wealth of which is represented by this specimen.

FOR MINING ROADS.
The coveted Appropriation Granted the Slocan Country.

The legislative assembly of British Columbia has just appropriated $40,000 for roads and trails in West Kootenai, to be expended this season in Kaslo district.

Confirmation of Reports of the Washington Strike.

William Cleary came in yesterday from the mines. He fully confirms the report of the recent strike in the lower tunnel of the Washington mine, owned by Ralph S. Clark and Thomas Jefferson of Spokane. The vein is widening, and the latest assays show that the grade is improving.

The Mountain Chief, owned by George Hughes, shows 12 inches of solid ore of a very high grade. Mr. Hughes has added to his force and will soon be shipping ore.

The owners of the Freddie Lee mine, Jim Wardner and Mr. Ehlers of the Great Falls smelter, are clearing the trail of snow and getting ready to resume shipments, which were stopped by slides.

The real estate men are doing a land office business in lots at Kaslo; prices are going up daily, and when the people come into this town in May they will find that they ought to have bought at this time.

Building is going on and the saw mill is being run at full capacity. People here are predicting that 8,000 people will be here by June.

The travel from Kaslo to the mines over the Kaslo Transportation company's line is increasing daily, as the owners of properties are putting more men to work.

TELLER TALKS SILVER

Colorado's Free Coinage Champion Tells of the White Metal's Prospects.

THE POSITION OF ENGLAND

Great Britain Will Oppose the Parity With Gold, but She Desires Some Plan to Benefit Silver.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Senator Teller, who has already given notice of his intention to take steps to cause an international money conference to convene at Brussels, was today asked for his opinion respecting the declaration of the chancellor of the exchequer yesterday, that the British delegates would be instructed to oppose every bi-metallic scheme presented at the conference. The senator said that the declaration meant that Great Britain would absolutely oppose the free coinage of silver on terms of equality with gold. "That is what she always has done, and nobody expected her to do any more at this time. But there is nothing in this position irreconcilable with the attainment of the object of the conference, namely, the extended use of silver as a money metal. In fact, there is evidence to show that Great Britain really desired to do something in that direction. Her financiers realized the necessity for some palliative measures, something to prevent the further depreciation of silver, which if continued, must result in the total destruction of the present monetary system. If that occurred, the future of silver would be assured. But nobody wished to adopt such a heroic measure to achieve the desired result." He had no doubt that England would be willing to support any reasonable proposition that would be more practical than the Rothschild scheme.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Castle Going Home—The Russian Extradition Treaty—An Appointment.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Messrs. Castle and Thurston of the Hawaiian commission, and Paul Neuman, attorney for Queen Liliuokalani, left Washington tonight. Mr. Castle is en route for home, intending to sail from San Francisco for Honolulu, March 31. The others will return to Washington and await the outcome of Blount's visit to the Hawaiian Islands.

The statement in the New York papers that a protest, numerously signed by prominent citizens against the consummation of the extradition treaty with Russia, would be sent to Secretary of State Gresham, was shown to the secretary this afternoon. He said that he had not received the protest, and, in reply to a question whether it would avail anything, said that he thought not. "The public may not know what is in the treaty," concluded Secretary Gresham. "It is being held in confidence until notified and proclaimed." Attorney General Olney today appointed Frank Strong, of Arkansas, general agent of the department of justice, vice F. C. Foster, resigned.

LICENSES SUSPENDED.

Until the Supreme Court Forgets It, There Will Be No Racing.

TRENTON, N. J., March 17.—Chief Justice Beasley granted writs, removing to the supreme court, the laws recently passed, providing for licensing race tracks in the state and permitting bookmaking and pool selling. The licenses granted, under the acts, to the Monmouth Park, Guttenburg and Gloucester tracks have been suspended pending the decision as to the constitutionality of the laws. The applications for the writs were made in behalf of the Citizens' League of New Jersey. The cases will probably be heard at the next term of the supreme court.

THE ANN ARBOR STRIKE.

Engineers and Firemen Still Out—Terms of the Compromise.

TOLEDO, March 17.—Grand Chief Arthur and Grand Master Sargent furnished the associated press with statements in regard to their refusal to accept the terms for settlement of the strike on the Toledo & Ann Arbor road. The terms are as to wages and hours acceptable, but the third article puts the strikers entirely at the mercy of the company. If the company would agree to take the strikers back without prejudice, the strike would be declared off, but this President Ashley absolutely refused to do so, nothing was left for the men but to continue the strike.

THE COMMITTEE AT WORK.

Democrats Discussing the General Policy of Their Party.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The democratic caucus committee resumed labor this afternoon. The results will be reported to the full caucus Tuesday. It is understood that the subject of reorganization of the executive officers of the senate was not taken up, but that the committee has been discussing matters connected with the general policy of the party.

A FEUD CAUSED MURDER.

Stephens, the Pugilist, Shot by a Bartender Who Iated Him.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 17.—Dan Stephens, a well-known local pugilist, was shot and instantly killed tonight by Charles Gutches, a bartender. There were no eye witnesses and the murder is supposed to have been the result of a feud.

THE GRAND OLD MAN.

England's Premier Cheered—Lord Salisbury is Convalescent.

LONDON, March 17.—Lord Salisbury is in better health to-day. Mr. Gladstone is so much recovered to-day that he drove to the house of commons, where he was received with cheers.

Declared a Dividend.

NEW YORK, March 17.—The directors of the Rio Grande Western railway have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. on preferred stock, payable May 1.

THE PANAMA TRIAL.

Members of the French Bar Tender Their Defender an Ovation.

PARIS, March 17.—Barboux, counsel for Charles De Lesseps, resumed his argument for the defense, at the opening of court this morning. He maintained that his client was ignorant of the manner in which Baron Reinach had used the money paid to him by the canal company, and that the evidence in the case proved the efforts of Clemenceau, Floquet and DeFreycinet to prevent a law suit from being instituted by Reinach against the company to have been made solely in the interest of the government. Dubuit, counsel for Marius Fontane, one of the indicted Panama directors, received an ovation on account of his spirited protest yesterday against Premier Ribot's imputation on the members of the bar, in his statement in the chamber of deputies. When Dubuit arrived in the robing room of the assize court before the resumption of the trial to-day, the members of the bar cheered and waived their official caps for several minutes. Dubuit was warmly congratulated on his effort in the successful refutation of Ribot's charges. The incident which arose out of the report that the counsel for Cottu intended to make an open statement in court to effect a certain foreign ambassador among the recipients of Panama bribery money, has excited the keenest indignation among the members of the legal profession.

Barboux, in concluding his address in behalf of Charles De Lesseps in the Panama trial to-day, said that from the outset of the trial the country had looked upon it less for its value, than as a symptom of French public life. All of these men were the barons of office and, not alone those accused here, but others also, might have been prosecuted in order to satisfy public opinion.

"Why," exclaimed M. Barboux, "were Rouviers and Thevenats allowed to go? Doubtless because it would have been dangerous to prosecute them. Your consciences, jury men, will dictate to you the verdict whereby you will earn the imperishable honor of having done justice to an honorable man and of having restored fame to an illustrious name and you will compensate the country for the prestige lost through the accusation of one of her noblest children."

Dubuit then proceeded to argue in defense of M. Marcus Fontane. He urged that there was nothing in the evidence to sustain the charge against Fontane.

VERY ROTTEN.

Incredible Methods of the Minnesota Coal Combine.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 17.—The latest developments in the coal combine sensation tend to confirm the investigation committee in their belief in the existence of such a combine. Mr. Welsh of the joint committee secured a batch of original letters, giving further details of the combine's organization and methods of work, and the committee will have them under consideration to-day. The letters apparently prove conclusively that a great combine exists that requires all wholesale dealers to pay to John J. Rhodes $1,000, before going into business, and retail dealers must pay $100 to the same gentleman for a like purpose. The supply of coal is absolutely cut off from all persons who attempt to sell it without "authority."

In one letter, said to be written by Rhodes, S. H. Wilson of Minneapolis is informed that he would better furnish no more coal to W. Esters till the latter paid his subscription. In another letter, the Lehigh Coal and Iron company is told that it must make W. Petran subscribe or shut off his supply. Other letters of a similar nature were found. Chairman Donnelly of the committee received a letter from one of the Pennsylvania coal barons, threatening to see that Minnesota gets no hard coal if the investigation is not dropped at once.

THE OLD STORY.

They Endorsed Notes and are Now in the Soup.

NEW YORK, March 17.—William Schwab, Adolph Schwab and Gustave Schwab, composing the firm of William Schwab & Son, album dealers, to-day allowed judgment to be taken against them for $42,149 in favor of Henry Sellick, for money loaned on paper. Siegfried Westheim, the pulp importer, who failed March 1, is credited with causing the failure. Ira A. Rambury, attorney for the Schwabs said to-day: "They indorsed Westheim's paper for $165,000, all accommodation paper. The total liabilities of the Schwabs, including the above accommodation paper, are about $236,000." Rambury could not tell what the assets would amount to.

COLLEGE BURNED.

The Pullman Military College in Washington Destroyed.

PULLMAN, Wash., March 17.—Last night at about 2 o'clock the military college was burned to the ground. The fire is supposed to have originated from a stove-pipe. By hard work the fire department saved the barracks. The loss will be about $4,500, covered by $2,325 insurance.

Hanged Yesterday.

The killing was the result of the wife's refusal to live with him and her return to her father's house. Schneider met her on the street with her brother and shot both to death.

DIED IN HIS ARM CHAIR

The French Senate Loses Its President, Jules Ferry.

CAUSED BY AUBERT'S SHOT

The Old Wound Affected His Breathing and His Sufferings Were Painful at the Last—Paris Grieved.

PARIS, March 17.—Jules Francois Canille Ferry, the celebrated statesman, is dead. M. Ferry's death was caused by heart disease. The affection of the heart from which he suffered was due to the effect of a bullet striking a rib near the base of the heart, at the time when he was attacked by Aubert, in 1887. He was seized with spasms early in the morning and, despite every effort made by the physicians, who were hastily summoned, the convulsions continued to grow in violence until, at 6 o'clock in the evening, he expired in terribly severe spasms.

Mme. Ferry said, in an interview with a reporter this evening, for the last two weeks M. Ferry had complained of a difficulty in breathing. His sleep was much broken and his general health suffered in consequence. In the last few days he seemed to recover somewhat his former energy and spirits, although the difficulty in breathing was increasing. Last evening he went to bed at 10 o'clock. Before midnight he awoke with a chill, succeeded later by one that was more severe. A doctor arrived at 1 o'clock, and after his treatment, M. Ferry felt relieved and fell into a sound sleep. He partly dressed at 9:30 and he helped him to an arm chair, and for an hour he was in a condition of such extreme prostration that he could talk but little. At 10:30 he began struggling for breath. This sudden rally was followed by another sinking turn. This alternate rallying and sinking continued until 5 o'clock, when he raised himself in his seat, looked at his wife fixedly, exclaimed "Save me," and fell back exhausted. His struggle for breath became agonizing, and the physicians injected morphia to relieve him. After a few unintelligible words he fell into a state of coma which ended in his death. He died in the arm chair in which for years he had done all of his writing and reading. All of the members of his family and Mme. Floquet were beside him to the last.

The news of Ferry's death astounded the city. None, since Gambetta's death, even made such an impression. Hundreds of politicians called at the house during the evening and inscribed their names in the visitors' book. The general feeling is that although Ferry's election to the presidency of the senate was contrary to the wishes of Carnot and Ribot, his death is a serious loss to the government. As yet the names of possible successors to the presidency of the senate are hardly mentioned.

A GIANT FRAUD.

San Francisco Brokers Fleeced by a Slick Knave.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—The creditors of J. H. Turner, a real estate dealer, who came here from Woodstock, Ont., eight years ago, claim to have been swindled out of over $40,000, and are seeking to recover their money. His practice is alleged to have been to sell a piece of land to several different parties. He also secured the confidence of a number of money brokers and others, whom he induced to invest $100,000 in the Owen's Valley Water company, the scheme being to irrigate lands in Inyo county. They gave notes for the money with the verbal understanding that they would not be used until they could be paid from the profits of the scheme. Turner, however, negotiated the notes at several banks, obtaining $2,000 on them and then dropped the irrigation scheme. The banks will bring suits to collect the notes and the makers have nothing to show for the money. Turner's office is closed and it was said that he is at home in a dying condition.

How St. Patrick's Day Was Celebrated in the East.

NEW YORK, March 17.—In honor of St. Patrick's day the green flag of Ireland was raised over the city hall to-day. Archbishop Corrigan celebrated high mass this morning and this afternoon 5,000 men marched in St. Patrick's day parade, the largest number ever seen on a like occasion in this city.

At the Nation's Capital.

Chicago's Celebration.

MURDER IN IDAHO.

A Drunken Finlander Is Shot by a Native Man.

BELLEVUE, Idaho, March 17.—A dispatch from Hailey says: At 4 o'clock this morning, in the bar room of the Star brewery in this city, Lei Hallstrom, a Finlander, aged 30 years, was shot and instantly killed by John Handell, proprietor of the brewery. Hallstrom and other Finns went to the brewery at midnight and imbibed freely of beer until 3 o'clock, when Handell decided to close his house and ordered his patrons out, which was disregarded by the now well intoxicated men, who desired to continue their drunken frolics till daylight. This led to a personal encounter between Handell and Hallstrom. The latter being much the stronger man, Handell broke away and ran for a pistol. At the same time Louis Schroeder, an attaché of the brewery, also appeared on the scene with a gun and both he and Handell fired a shot each and instantly Hallstrom reeled, saying, "Oh! oh! oh!" with his eyes set, and fell dead with a bullet through his heart.

The sheriff was on hand promptly and lodged both Handell and Schroeder in jail, and at the coroner's inquest held to-day before Justice Ervin Johnson, the jury returned a verdict that Hallstrom met his death from a bullet from a pistol in John Handell's hand. Handell does not appear to realize the gravity of the situation. He has a violent temper, and it is thought by many is flighty and at times insane. Hallstrom came to America 11 years ago, and has worked in the mines of Park City, Utah, where his brother, Sam, now resides. He was naturally inclined to be ugly when drunk.

Steven Winchester had his feet badly frozen while making a trip from Bellevue to Muldoon. He started out on snowshoes, Tuesday morning in a heavy snowstorm, to cross the mountains, losing his way and being out two days. It is feared that he will lose both legs up to the knees.

The defendants are the Michigan Central, the Wabash, the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee, the Chicago & Grand Trunk, the Saginaw, Saginaw & Mackinaw, and the Detroit, Lansing & Northern Railroad companies.

COSTLY REVENUE.

A German Miner Kills Six Fellow Workmen and Dies Himself.

BERLIN, March 17.—A miner, named Boehme, purposely exploded 10 pounds of dynamite to-day in an iron mine in the Harz district. He and six other miners were torn to atoms. Upon leaving home this morning, Boehme gave his wife a letter, which he said was not to be opened till noon. The letter said merely that Boehme would never return. Boehme's motive is said to have been revenge, as he had trouble recently with the superintendent of the mine and was constantly quarreling with his fellow working men.

MONGOLIANS ARE MAD

For Tricks That Are Vain, the Heathen Chinese Is Peculiar.

THEY REFUSE TO REGISTER

The Plan of the Chinese Six Companies to Defeat the Geary Law—Attorneys at Work.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—The Chinese Six Companies, in reply to questions from collector of Internal Revenue Quinn, asking if they had ordered Chinese laborers not to register under the Geary law, have returned an answer. The Six Companies say: "We have issued a circular advising Chinese laborers that the law requiring them to register is unconstitutional and cannot be enforced, and, therefore, suggesting to them that they do not comply with the law. This circular is based upon the advice of our attorneys that the law is unconstitutional and is in violation of treaty rights."

As a result of the circular sent out by the Six Companies, over $50,000 have been contributed by the Chinese to fight the law in the courts. The Six Companies have not stopped with simply ordering their subjects to disobey the law, they have set on foot an elaborate plan to defeat it. The attorney for the Six Companies went to New York and Washington some weeks ago, as a preliminary step, and employed assistant counsel, James C. Carter and J. Hubley Ashton of Washington were induced to aid in defeating the new law. It has been arranged to commence a show of force in New York. Renowned lawyers have been employed, chief among whom is Dr. Choate.

On May 6, some Chinamen, who will be picked out for the purpose, will be arrested and taken before one of the United States judges, who will be asked to order his deportation at once. As no one will question the validity of the law, of course the order will be made. Then a writ of habeas corpus will be taken out before another judge and, as nobody will attack the law before him, he will remand the prisoner, and then an appeal will be taken to the supreme court at Washington and the matter must there be finally settled.

Collector Quinn stated that he had received notice from the Chinese Masonic societies that their members would register in compliance with the law. The Masonic societies have about 3,000 members, but they are mainly of the disreputable element. Collector Quinn is making elaborate preparations to register the Chinese. He has been told that he will be $50 a day, and as there are $2,000 Chinese in this district, they could not possibly all be registered between now and May 4, even if they wanted to.

A SUIT FOR LIBEL.

The Boulder "Sentinel" in Trouble—St. Patrick's Day Observed.

BOULDER, March 17.—Suit was begun to-day in the district court against S. A. Robertson, editor of the Jefferson County Sentinel, for $10,000 damages for a statement which appeared in his paper, libeling the public administrator John Berkin, and W. L. Hay. The piece was reported to have been written by Senator Cardwell, but on investigation it was found that a man named Baker of Helena wrote the piece for Cardwell for a money consideration. It is generally supposed that Berkin and Hay are trying to play a freeze out game with Robertson. The case is attracting considerable interest and developments are looked for every day.

St. Patrick's day was celebrated in grand style here by a large banquet and dance given for the benefit of the new Catholic church. The Boulder band went up to the evening train and escorted J. M. Quinn of the Butte Miner to the hall, where he and several local orators spoke. The receipts are reported to be over $500. Parties are in town from all over the county, and there is a great rush here to-day for the storekeepers.

Owen Williams, as guest, were dining when the thieves made a general clearance. Williams' personal effects were taken.
